Intro: Am G D

Note: While playing the D chord, you should alternate between playing the normal D chord and playing it with the e string open. Listening to the song should help you figure out the right rhythm.

Am G D
Do you ever stop to think from time to time
Am G D
About the way the world s been left behind
Am G D
In another place and in another time
Am G D
We could maybe change the way we think take the blinkers from our eyes

Am G D (x2)

Am G D
Do you think that she was maybe not alone
Am G D
Do you think there s someone out there do you think that they might know
Am G D
And if they don t, do you think they should be told
Am G D
Cause she s living in a nightmare running out of her control

Chorus:

Am
Take the rope
G D

Take the blindfold from your eyes

Am

Take the rope from around your neck

G

D

And take the blindfold from your eyes

C (let ring...)

Then you ll never be surprised

When they tell you that they love you

Am

While they re eating you alive

G D Am G D

Am

G

D

Do you think you have the strength to carry on

Am

G

D

Or has the black cat got your tongue

Am

G

D

Don t worry now the world will be alright

Am

G

D

Cause this land has been here longer than the likes of you and I

Chorus

(funky bass and fiddle interlude)

Repeat verse 2 (Do you think that she was maybe not alone...)

Final chorus:

Am

Take the rope

G

D

Take the blindfold from your eyes

Am

Take the rope from around your neck

D

And take the blindfold from your eyes

Am

Take the rope

D

Take the blindfold from your eyes

Am

Take the rope from around your neck

D

And take the blindfold from your eyes

C (keep strumming...)

Then you ll never be surprised

When they tell you that they love you

Am

While they re eating you alive
