Bones
Lewis Watson

So... I thought I d have a go at tabbing Bones by Lewis Watson.

He uses a lot of hammmer ons/offs throughout, so listen to the song for the timing.

Sorry, I m not sure on the names of all chords, but have listed them below.

Chords used

G1 (320033)
G2 (355433)
G3 (3x0033)
D* (x54030) (Not sure what this chord is...)
C (x32010)
Csus2 (x35533)
Cmaj7 (x32000)
Bm7 (x24232)
Em7 (x79787)

Intro

G2 D* C (x2)

Verse1

```
        G2        D*              C
just open your eyes, no don t be scared at all.

            G2                D*              C
we ll jump out of aeroplanes and the lakes will break our fall,

          G2          D*              C
no don t make a sound because i ll be with you the whole way down.

C                           Cmaj7
and i told you everything.
```

Verse2

```
                         G2              D*           C
and i know it s quite soon but you ve got a lovely heart

                             G2          D*              C
and i hope that you feel it too and a flame follows these sparks.

                   G2          D*              C
just don t tell me lies because i ve been let down too many times.

C                        Cmaj7
and i told you everything.

Chorus
-----
G3                                      Bm7
so i ll spend the night looking into your eyes

                       Em7           Csus2
because i want to remember them if i ever fall blind

G3                                      Bm7
we could jump in the ocean and sink like stones

          Em7                                   Csus2
but that s ok with me baby  cause i ll be next to your bones

(Repeat Intro)

Verse 3
-------

                         G2          D*           C
we can spend the rest of our lives, by the old reservoir.

                   G2          D*              C
looking at satellites, waiting for a shooting star.

                         G2          D*           C
although my wish has been made and i found you, i ll just wish you stay

C                        Cmaj7
because i love your everything

Chorus
```

```
-------
```

G3   Bm7
so i ll spend the night looking into your eyes

                                    Em7   Csus2
because i want to remember them if i ever fall blind

G3   Bm7
we could jump in the ocean and sink like stones but that s ok with me baby cause Csus2
i ll be next to your bones

```
Outro
-----
```

G3   Bm7   Em7   Csus2   G1