

Just Go

Lionel Richie

                  C          G
It'd be so nice,
                                  F                  G
If you didn't have to feel so lonely
                  C          G
It'd be so nice,
                                  F                  G
If I could sneak you for a moment
                  C                                  G
I know you like to get away, go away, far away
                  F                                  G
To a place where there's just us two
                  C                                  G
Got a busy day, everyday, but not today
                  F                                  G
Cause I'm here to take that stress from you
                  C                                  G
So you can just chill, and clear your head
                  F
And let me do everything for you
                  G
Cause you deserve it,
                  C                                  G
Prepare your meal, and make your bed
                                  F
Willing to switch places with you,
                  G
Cause you are so worth it

                  C                  G
I just want us to go, (go, go)
                                  F                  G
Drop everything and just go (go, go)
                  C                  G
I just want us to go, (go, go)
                                  F                  G                  C
Drop everything and just go (go, go)

                  G                                  F                  G
How would you like to sail away in the Bahamas?
                  C
(Just you and me girl)

                  G                                  F                  G
So far out in the sea where nobody can find you
(Just the end of the World)

G

Cause there is no rush

F

G

For you to come back and face the rain

C

G

Cause there is plenty sunshine where I pickin? you

F

G

And I?m here to reduce the pain

I know you like to get away, go away, far away

To a place where there?s just us two

Got a busy day, everyday, but not today

Cause I?m here to take that stress from you

So you can just chill, and clear your head

And let me do everything for you

Cause you deserve it,

Prepare your meal, and make your bed

Willing to switch places with you,

Cause you are so worth it

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)

C

G

Just imagine when you?re tired and laying by my side, and

F

G

Sippin? on some wine while I stand a massage

C

G

And releasing all your tension I couldn?t have a better time

F

G

And my job is to keep my baby smiling

So you can just chill, and clear your head

And let me do everything for you

Cause you deserve it,

Prepare your meal, and make your bed

Willing to switch places with you,

Cause you are so worth it

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)

I just want us to go, (go, go)

Drop everything and just go (go, go)
