the opening sequence is just a picked version of the chords Bm (224412)
and Em (022000). if you can contort you hand into a good Bm (which i can t) then it shouldn t be a problem...

capo second fret

I debate that... My opinion is no capo, and the chords are.... C#m A

The opening sequence is C#minor (X46654) and A (577655) bar chords

Here I also have an alteration. I have noticed that the high notes of the bar chords are left open.... I.e. an A bar (577655) is played (577600). Therefore chords throughout are....

C#m	(X46650)
A	(577600)
F#	(255400)
E	(022100)
Bm	(799800)	so the open 1st and 2nd strings (B&E) can be played
*G#	(466544)	dont play open 1st and 2nd.. sounds terrible!
*F#	(255422)
B	(X24440)
*A	(X02220)

The chords that are not played with the open 1st and 2nd are marked with an asterisk (*) below.
