

Boy In The Anorak
Little Man Tate

TABBED by benjamin salt

E

She sings along to every song

But always gets the lyrics wrong

A

She smiles and sticks out her tongue

Can't believe it took so long

For me to even start to see

A little bit of her in me

And wondering if we'd ever be

If we'd have talked since seventeen

F#m

Would she respond to all my glances

Then ignore all my advances

B

Oh I'll take my chances

You looked good in that skirt

You looked good in them shoes

And in nothing at all

You looked great in that too

And though you feel let down

When your worlds down the shit, tonight

B

Let's make the most of it

etc etc with the rest of the song same chords likeeee

I shouted but she didn't look back

I'm stood there in my anorak
To say that she was nice and that
An understatement it's a fact
I stood there staring at my shoes
The choice just wasn't mine to choose
A tenner on I bet I'd lose
But those were worst words she could use

Will she respond to all my glances
Then ignore all my advances
Oh I'll take my chances

You looked good in that skirt
You looked good in them shoes
And in nothing at all
You looked great in that too
And though you feel let down
When the world's dealt you sh!t, tonight
Let's make the most of it

You look good in that shirt
You look good in them shoes
And in nothing at all
You looked great in that too

You look good in that shirt
You look good in them shoes
And in nothing at all
You looked great in that too
