Bed springs rubbin her back through the blanket

Sweat like a tear rollin down her neck

Watchin him pullin down the shades on the window

She d rather have him than an empty bed and her self respect

And she says

(muted chords)

Old man countin his money in the city

Nothin but the bottom dollar on his mind

The whole situation is a downright pity

He didn t even notice when she crossed that line when she crossed that line

When she said
