

Lonely End

Long Beach Dub Allstars

whole song is done with a very simple reggae downstroke, just play along a few times and you should be gold!

Intro: G D G D E A E D (G)

G D G
I make my own rules, yes I open my own doors
(G) D E
I try be on point, Yes I go there every day
(E) A E
You see me on the streets, Yes I go by many names,
(E) D
I hear the people think that I am strange

G D G
I live my own life, I do it my own way
(G) D E
My actions and my words, Make my mama say
(E) A E
Boy you better watch out, cause I ve got my eyes on you
(E) D
when you re caught there s nothing you can do

Chorus:

G D
When I got caught, I didn t care
C G D (let the last D ring)
This might be hard to understand, My friend

G D
Let the humbled be grounded beneath thee feet, As they kill over colours
G D
Love is not in love is that as love on the street, so don t cry for my brothers
E
Better watch your back, Try not to stare
A
when the shit goes down, you better be aware
E D
When the night falls it s time to say your prayers

Chorus:

G D
And so I got caught, I didn't care (no)
C G D (let last D ring)
This might be hard to understand, my friend

(repeat intro chords)

G D G D E A E D

G D G
I've lived My own life, I did it my own way
(G) D E
My actions and my words, Make my mama say
(E) A E
Boy you better watch out, cause I've got my eyes on you
(E) D
When you're caught there's nothing you can do

G D
And so I got caught, I didn't care(no)
C G D
This might be hard to understand, My friend
 C G D
And, this one might be your lonely end, My friend
 C G D
Cause, this might be hard to understand, My friend
 C G (slow down) D(let ring)
Cause, this one might be your lonely end and that's it! hope you enjoy playing it as much as I do!

Note: The lyrics are the ones I personally use(writing down the lyrics after listening to the song a hundred times),as none of the lyrics sites seem to have the correct lyrics.
Just sing along and you'll get it!
