

When it really mattered it was there for me and you
Now our world is changing we got to see what we're gonna do i know you re here for me and i will always be

Want u in my soul
i want u in my soul, said i want u in my soul
Your love to me is gold
Your love to me is gold, your love to me is gold
This thing i cant control
This thing i cant control, this thing i cant control
Just let this feling go Gonna let the feeling go, gonna let the feeling go

Our past has been but we cant let it go Just looking back on all the things we've done
And i have noticed in myself i could have changed it all Gonna make a difference
And believe in what we're gonna show

Gotta stand alone and try to lead the way i made my feelings known in every day And i've been seeing How u make your peace within so easily How i know that love will be Forever caught in time

When it comes to changing i'm gonna be that one Don't have regrets for all the things i've done
And i'm believing
Deep within the core of every soul
Now i know the reason
You wont ever let me down

You give me something i can feel it in my soul
When it comes to loving you i lose my self-control Always thought that this was it and you're gonna be the last
Now we see the future common and we cant forget the past looking back and all we've had to get on through

when it really mattered it was there for me and you
now our world is changing we got to see what we're gonna do i know your here for me and i will always be
