                                         G#m
                                                     Α
Rather die in your arms, than die lonesome
                                  G#m
                                               Α

How the fire feels while burning
   C#m
For life is like a flame
        F#m
                        G#m

So honey don t be afraid
To dance while we re waiting
