

Betty Page
Madeline

Betty Page by Madeline
from the album Kissing and Dancing

note

The tuning does not match up to the recording on the album.

E A
The female form, oh Betty Page in leopard print lemonade.

E A
The world became sour at the sight of her.

Am7 E Am7 E
I loved her like a sister or a piece of furniture.

E A
A rubber dress and a leather whip. Her photographs were well equipped at shocking the government of the day.
E A

Am7 E Am7 E
If they just new poor Betty for her innocence and naivety

E A E A
I am miss puritan. I know my answers are right.

E A E A
I am miss holier than. I will win this justified fight.

E A E A
It s not easy. No, it s not easy.

E A
A silver gun what a glorious hit man stuck inside his lover s basement,
E A
thinking about the situation in front of him.

Am7 E Am7 E
He loves her like a mother or a piece of furniture.

E A
Two lives left, and one is for the taking! He s the husband, an insurance agent.

E A
Now he s the target for the postman

Am7 E Am7 E
who brought lust with his deliveries of innocence and naivety.

