Intro:

Cm--Fm-G#--Bb-Cm--Fm-Eb- x2

Verse 1:

C#m

It s about time now that

you find out your egos

a coffin so lie down

C#m

It s about time now that

A

you put your pride away

C#m

Cause there s something about how the words sound when

A

they re coming out

of your own mouth

C#m

That make you wonder

A

what you think this weighs

Chorus 1:

C#m A

We re the lucky ones

E B

And we tore

C#m

these days undone

A

We re the bastard sons

E

Who squandered every

Bb Cm-- x2

mile they let us run

Verse 2:

C#m

You ve heard enough

A

by now to know

C#m

There s lines to cross

and lines to leave

A B

alone You re worth a

C#m A

fools weight in gold

C#m A B

Until they let you go

Verse 3:

C#m

For what it s worth I

think you ve got some nerve

B C#m

It s what you earn and

A B

not what you deserve

C#m

That keep the feet below

your knees planted to the ground So set your sights

ahead and chase it down

Chorus 2:

C#m A

We re the lucky ones

E B

And we tore

C#m

these days undone

A

We re the bastard sons

E

Who squandered every

B

mile they let us run

C#m A

If this is all

E B

a dream Then I beg you

C#m

to let me sleep

A

Cause I ve found something

E B

worth all I ve given up

Bridge:

C#m A E F#m C#m

Give in fade out

A E B C#m

Raise the bar or set it down

A E

Cause you can t change the

F#m B

rules they made to suit yourself

C#m A E F#m C#m

Give in fade out

A E B C#m

Raise the bar or set it down

A E

Cause you can t change the
