Album: Everything Must Go

Hi there! This is one of the three songs on Everything Must Go that was written by Richey. He co-wrote a few others on the album as well but you probably know that. vulture standing near a dying child. This photo won him the Pulitzer prize and he became very famous. He was not happy and so killed himself because he couldn't live with the thought that instead of helping the child he photographed it and left it to die.
