The intro chord is played throughout the song. Its simply a D chord and a hammer-on on the G string on the second fret as shown above.

Paint a picture of the sunset

Hanging there in your eyes
But it d just be some compromise

Steal some of dylans best

Baby if you could love someone like me
G A
Theres no end to the possibility

Sometimes when I look back
I dont even know myself
It blows my mind to think that ive found grace in someone else
Baby your grace is something else

Baby if you could love someone like me
There s no end to the possibility
Hopes and dreams push away the pain and regret
But loving you just lets me know
There might be hope for me yet
