

Open Your Eyes

Margot & the Nuclear So and So's

This isn't exact to the recording but it's good enough for me with my rookie skills. :)

think the actual recording is tuned down a 1/2 step.

Also, this isn't really a Margot song rather it's an Archer Avenue song.

Walk up from the G to the Em

[Main Part]

Em C
Monday I drifted away

D                      G

with some coffee to keep me awake.

Em C
And you saw New York one final time

D*G

as this credit card shut up your eyes.

Em Tuesday I woke with the dawn C

D and put my old wedding ring on. G

Em C
She said, time is a fickle mistress

D G
you can drink but you ll never fool it.

[ Chorus ]

C                    G
I am invisible to you.

D                G

All on my own, what can i do?

C	G	D6/F#
Southbound is heaven, the city is sin.

Em C
Wednesday I hung from a tree

D G
hoping that you d notice me.

Em C
And you bathed all my wounds in your tears

D                      G
and showered me with sympathy.

Em C

Thursday was harder to take with these pills piled high on my plate.

So I swallowed each one in a haste

in a cascade of light I was saved.

I am invisible to you.

All on my own, what can i do?

Southbound is heaven, the city of sin.

[Breakdown]

Em	C
D	G
Em	C
D	G

She says I m sorry my darling.

Time stole the joy we were hiding.

I am in love and this baby is yours.

And I don t want to live in this lie.

And let darkness just cover my eyes.

And I m trying to get myself clean

but it s all I can do to just scream.

Whoa, whoa, whoa...

Whoa, whoa, whoa...

Whoa, whoa, whoa...

Whoa, whoa, whoa...

Em

D6/F#

e--2
b--o
g--2
d--o
a--o
e--2