At first I was scared when I opened up my head and the motor that was running was the mind of you I was scared when I looked at my reflection and the shine I saw were the eyes of you I was scared when you touched my lips and the breath I took was the breath that shook me with a shock Like a flame as eternal as the song and the song is you

And I will let you breathe through me
I will let you be with me

Whenever I m alone and you re lost out there I can feel you breathe cause our lungs we share
When I m alone anytime, anywhere
I can feel your heart beat cause our blood we share
I was scared when you came into the room the walls became the sea, your voice was the moon Oh, and when you rocked me in your arms like a song, a wave on the tide of you

Chorus

My heart beats your blood
Your breath fills my lungs
Your heart beats my blood
My breath fills your lungs

I was scared when you came into the room
the walls became the sea, your voice the moon Oh, and when you rocked me in your arms...

Be with me
