The Sun Always Reminds Me Of You Marissa Nadler capo 4th fret intro: A Δ It s a beautiful day F#m And I went for a walk D But I saw that old dirt path Α Where we used to talk Α Where is the rain F#m Cause some spring lovers D Α Are bringing me down again The years have come And your hands have gone But your land is something Lost in a song Α D Why does the sun always remind me of you Yes it does Bm I hope a new day will come Α And cover up what I done C#7 А Why does the sun always remind me of you I would know D That there ain t nothing but love songs Α On the radio Turn on the colored days To peel away the skin The sun will turn my hands to gold More than any alchemist Sea water it rounds the edge of shard and turns to sand I heard you bought a house Bm

And light it up with glass and second hand

Why does the sun always remind me of you Yes it does I hope a new day will come And cover up what I have done Why does the sun always remind me of you I would know That there aint nothing but love songs On the radio

D C#m Always reminds me of you Yes it does D C#m It always reminds me of you Yes it does, F# Yes it does, Bm Yes it does Dm

в Е Why does the sun always remind me of you Yes it does C#m I hope a new day will come в And cover up what I have done Why does the sun always remind me of you Yes it does I hope a new day will come And cover up what I have done в Eb7 Why does the sun always remind of you I would know \mathbf{E} That there ain t nothing but love songs в On the radio