On Silvertown way the cranes stand high
Quiet and gray against the still of the sky
They won t quit and lay down though the action has died
They watch the new game in town on the Blackwall side

From the poisonous drains a vision appears
A new circle of cranes, a new reason to be here
A big silver dome rising up into the dawn
Above the church and the homes where all the silver is gone

Gm Dm C
If I d a bucket of gold, what would I do
Am Bb Dm
I d leave the story untold Silvertown blues

F Bb
Going down in Silvertown

Gm F
Down in Silvertown

Bb C

A silver dawn steals over the docks
A truck with no wheels up on the cinderblocks
Men with no dreams around a fire in a drum
Scrap metal schemes rusted over and done

If I d a bucket of gold, silver would do
I d leave the story untold Silvertown blues
And I m going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown
Going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown

Dm	Bb	Dm	C Bb
When you re standing on thin and dangerous ice
Dm	Bb	Dm	C Bb
You can knock and walk in for citizens advice
Dm	Bb	Dm	C Bb
They ll tell you where you can turn, where you can go
Dm	Bb	Dm	C Bb
There s nothing they can tell me I don t already know

If I d a bucket of gold, silver would do
I d leave the story untold Silvertown blues
And I m going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown
Going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown

From the Canning Town train I see a billboard high
There s a big silver plane rising up into the sky
And I can make out the words seven flights every day
Says six of those birds are bound for JFK

If I d a bucket of gold, silver would do
I d leave the story untold Silvertown blues
And I m going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown
Going down in Silvertown
Down in Silvertown

that s about it, sorry about the solo, my electric is broken,
I ll try to post it later on.
