It Was Always You
Maroon 5

Intro: C# B F# F#

C#   B
Woke up sweating from a dream
                                F#
With a different kind of feeling
C#   B
All day long my heart was beating
                          F#
Searching for the meaning

C#m
Hazel eyes,
          B
I was so color blind
                F#
We were just wasting time
    C#m
For my whole life
            B
We never crossed the line
              F#
Only friends in my mind
              F#
But now I realize,

                C#m
It was always you
                    B   F#
Can t believe I could not see it all this time, all this time
                C#m
It was always you
                  B   F#
Now I know why my heart wasn t satisfied, satisfied
                C#m B F#
It was always you,   you
                  C#m
No more guessing who
                    B   F#
Looking back now I know it was always you, always you

C#   B
All my hidden desires
                  F#
Finally came alive
C#   B
No, I never told lies

```
                      F#
To you so why would I
F#
Start tonight

C#m
Hazel eyes,
            B
I was so color blind
                 F#
We were just wasting time
    C#m
For my whole life
            B
We never crossed the line
             F#
Only friends in my mind
             F#
But now I realize,

              C#m
It was always you
                B                            F#
Can t believe I could not see it all this time, all this time
              C#m
It was always you
              B                    F#
Now I know why my heart wasn t satisfied, satisfied
              C#m   B   F#
It was always you,    you
               C#m
No more guessing who
                B                        F#
Looking back now I know it was always you, always you

  C#m     B     F#
(Aah, yeah, you, you, you, always you, you, you)
  C#m     B     F#
(Aah, yeah, you, you, you, always you, you, you)

C#                          B
Woke up sweating from a dream
                            F#
With a different kind of feeling

              C#m
It was always you
              B                            F#
Even if I could not see it all this time, all this time
              C#m
It was always you
              B                    F#
Now I know why my heart wasn t satisfied, satisfied
```

```
            C#m   B   F#
It was always you,   you
                C#m
No more guessing who
                B                       F#
Looking back now I know it was always you, always you
                C#m   B   F#
It was always you
```
