

The Shadow
Mary Black

[Intro]

Am

[Verse]

It s over now, the guns have flowed
G G7 C F
The nightmare flashed on a cradle road
G E7
As the guilty rain came down
Am Dm
No child to hold through anxious fears
G G7 C F
No gentle hand to catch the tears
G E7
That soak this ancient ground

[Verse]

Am Dm
The smile that breaks so gently, belies a troubled head

G G7 C
Like the voice that holds the secrets of a life you might have led

G E7 Am F
Eyes with pale indifference in danger and in grace

Dm G C
But the glance that knows the death-knell left its shadow on your face

Am Dm
In the deep, enduring darkness as your loyal friends go down

G F E F
Touched by the violent crown til their hunter s hunted down

[Instrumental]

Am Dm G C F G E7

[Verse]

Am Dm
 The web is slowly woven, the endless dreamer shed
G G7 C
 In the dawn, the curfew is broken on the Sunday morning s dead
G E7 Am F
 Centuries of thunder take the castle in the flood
Dm G C
 To the cold night air of London, where your hands are bound in blood
Am Dm
 Midwinter deepened as the parting turned inside
G F E F
 A thousand times you cried, but the shadow never died

[Verse]

Am Dm
It s over now, the guns have flowed
G G7 C F
The nightmare flashed on a cradle road
G E7
As the guilty rain came down
Am Dm
No child to hold through anxious fears
G G7 C F
No gentle hand, no graceful years
G E7
Just bitter ancient ground
Am
It s over now
