Released: May 19th

I m new to this. I haven t been playing for very long either so forgive me for my mistakes.

Verse:
C
Stop this runaway car
        B
I wanna get off

I wanna go back
          A                                    D
If I left you there then I left it all behind
C                                    B
Cause all Iâ€™m feeling now is the weight of the world bearing down
     A                                          D
I donâ€™t have answers to any of my questions anymore

Chorus:
                            C
 Cause I might have been wrong
                     B
I might have been scared all along
                      A                          D
I might have been standing on the top of the world
What a difference a day makes
I turned and watched you walk away
                      A                          D
I might have been standing on the top of the world
                            C
 Cause I might have been wrong

The rest repeats from there pretty much!

End song on C

It sounds good on my bass, so hopefully it s good on the guitar:)

God Bless
