

Love is a whole lot like liquor

A sip, will make you feel fine
But too much it turns into poison
And it ll rot a man from the inside
So here I am some several years later
Wiser than when you first moaned
No closer to where I was headin
Good thing my heart is made out of stone

I m going out in the shirt that you bought me
The one you said fit me just right
And it ll smell like a new lovers perfume
Instead of you at the end of the night

I don t care if she s sweet or if she s selfish
I hope she s better looking too
And I ll hold her all night when we re finished
And I ll be gone like I shoulda, shoulda been with you

I m going out in the shirt that you bought me
The one you said fit me just right
And it ll smell like a new lovers perfume
Instead of you at the end of the night

Well I m going out in the shirt that you bought me
The one you said fit me just right
And it ll smell like a new lovers perfume
Well it ll smell like a new lovers perfume
At the end of the night
