Passer By Mattafix

MATTAFIX - PASSER BY

```
    E        D          A            E
she said no words when i chose to stand away.
E   E   E   E

       E           D            A            E
in the backround of my mind when the sun rose i chose the shade
E   E   E   E

      E          D          A              E
never wanted never needed all the priceless things to say
E      D          A          E
  but i know that time alone was overdue
E  D        A          E
  i know time alone was overdue
E     D   A    E
  overdue    overdue
E      D A E
  overdue

     E          D          A              E
at times rock stone is the only bed thatÂ´s made
E   D   A   E

E             D              A            E
so i have the faith come what will come what may
E  D       A      E
   passer by in pain
E   E   E   E

     E          D          A              E
she read those words that i chose to throw her way
E   E   E   E

       E           D              A            E
and the times they were laden with hesistation that i made
E   E   E   E

           E         D          A              E
and if youÂ´re ever my endeavour once again then iÂ´ll be changed
```

```
E    D                   A              E
   i know that it aint so my hope refrains
E           D       A        E
   my hope refrains    awa-hey
E           D A E
   my hope refrains

at time rock stone is the only bed thatÂ´s made
so i have the faith come what will come what may
passer by in pain

E  D  A  E

at time rock stone is the only bed thatÂ´s made
so i have the faith come what will come what may
      E           D       A              E
and when i rise alone it donÂ´t feel the same so i have the faith come what will come what may
passer by in pain
```