Tommorrow
Matthew Sweet

Tomorrow by Matthew Sweet

```
        C#              C#/B              Bbm
So you re looking for a way to set the seasons
Hoping for a chance to do it over
And even thought you say that it s all over
Even if I know you ll never know me
Bbm7/G        Eb                                  G#
I already tried to stop the clock and turn back time
It s already clear to me I shouldn t even try        (Chorus1)
You are still around to hear the words as they go by
I still understand that there s a difference if I lie  (Chorus2)
```

Chorus
```
C#                      F#       Fm               Bbm   Bbm7/G
Don t you have to wonder, what life has in store for
Don t you have to wonder, what life has in store for
F#           G#            F#
Tomorrow you ll be,   for tomorrow you ll  be  [C#] free
Tomorrow you ll be,   for tomorrow you ll  [G#] be, For [F#] tomorrow you ll be [Am] free  (Bridge / End)
```

Bridge - End
```
                      Bbm7/G      F#
You re not alone without a name
                         Fm            Bbm            F#   G#
But you re alone if you can t,  feel the others pain , such a shame

C#  C#/B  Bbm  Bbm7/G  Eb  G#  (2x)

C#                      F#       Fm               Bbm   Bbm7/G
Don t you have to wonder, what life has in store for F#               G# (3x)      F#                      C#   C#/B   Bbm  Bbm7/G
tomorrow you ll be ,       For tomorrow you ll be free
      Eb  F#                        C#     C#/B        Bbm       Bbm7/G
Cause tomorrow you ll be free, (must be something you can keep on loving)
(Repeat)
```