This is my first time doing this, so sorry if it's not right. But this way sounds decent.

am not advanced enough to tab a couple parts (there's a little diddy before the 2nd and a sick solo after the 2nd chorus) so hopefully someone can figure that out soon.

Standard tuning (I think)

Verse: Am, C

Once I was there, a lovely commotion
You danced with my flesh, as a sickening garb.
My lips were your lips, my songs were worth saving,
saving your soul, drove off in your car.
But now you're too cool, You found a new boy toy,
A healthy young man, with a sweater and scarf.
Trained tragically with his jedi powers,
while I trudge behind in a dark lonely march.

Am

Come on, come on

C

Why don't you love my like

G

how you loved me

F

when we were young?

Am, C

I trusted you, Spent every moment
Defending your life, from the mobs of naive.
But I was the fool, to fork over fondly
My will to exist, because you're that cool.
