Joel: Hi, I noticed no one had tabbed this song yet so I've had a go! Tell me what you think!

G B
This girl that moved just down the road from me
Em C
She had the nicest legs I've ever seen D back then G B
she wrote me letters just to say she loved me Em C D
now her face is just a memory

now that Am
seven years have gone
F
and I've grown up but she's moved on D7 G Gdim
somehow I'm still holding on to her
C E F
I still got so many unsaid things that

I wanna say
D7
and I just can't wait another day
G Gdim
I wish she knew
C E F
I still wait up wondering if she still remembers me
D7 G C
but there's no way for me to know

(You just repeat the first part for this verse)
Now she's got pregnant with a baby it feels like she's slipping away from me now that she's getting married I'm in misery coz her fiancée's so much bigger than me
Am

coz he works out a lot

F

and there s not much that he ain t got

D7

and right now I m losing the plot

G Gdim

along with her

(Just repeat the same as the chorus, it starts with: I still got so many unsaid things, and so on)

(I m not sure if this is right for the break but just mess around with the chords until it sounds right)

G Em F (D7) G C

And I want her to know before she s married and has a baby that I need her
