Another day, another night alone
Stepping out into the great unknown
Tonight, even god knows, baby, that ain t right

Chorus:

Why don t you run away
And find yourself a life
Go on and turn the page
Before your lonely world collides
What s it gonna take to break the silence
That s been tearing you apart?
If only god could talk

Did you swear to yourself
On the day it was over
That you d never turn around
And get locked up in another cage?

Did you tear all the pictures
Of us living life together
Did you burn all the memories
That we made, in a fit of rage?

Why don t you run away
And find yourself a life
Go on and turn the page

Before your lonely world collides
