Backwater
Meat Puppets

F                                            C# F
and when I wake up in the morning to feel the day break on my face
                                                      G
  C# theres a blood thats flowing through the feeling with a knife to open up the skys
         F veins
Chorus
         F                        G                           C#
    some things will never change when you stand there lookin backwords
               Eb                        F                        G
  C#
and unconence from the pain it may seem rearainged and the backwaters swirlin
                         Eb
and theres something that will never change
     F                                       G
C# and when I should have been done along time it lasts untill I find ways just when F               G                   C#                   F
we sheld in on the paper the rocket no matter sideways
F                        G                              C#
some things will never change and when you stand there lookin backwords
                  Eb                        F                        G
   C#
and unconcence from the pain it may seem rearainged and the backwaters
                             Eb
swirlin and theres something that will never change
              F              G              C#              Eb   x2.
       and maybe im bind good find those on time good stop
Chorus
F                                    G                   C# F
and when I wake up in the mornin to feel the day break on my face there blood
       G                                        C# F
thats flowin through the ceeling with knife to open up the skys veins
F                                    G                   C# somethings will never change when you stand there lookin backwords and Eb                    F              G
 C# unconcence from the pain it may seem rearainged and the backwaters swirlin
                                           Eb
and theres something that will never change x3
