Ok, I ve worked this out for acoustic guitar and it works quite well with recording and for you to play it by yourself. The key change near the end makes things a bit difficult. It s a bit tough finding an octave for the A# so I ve just left the same one in there. You may want to play just the high strings the second time maybe. Other than that it s pretty straight forward. It s a brilliant song and I hope you enjoy the transcription. Vic
