

Boston

Mick Flannery

mick plays this on piano so i have been using a fairly loose pick with some light strumming.....wont matter how you play it cause its a great song!

also i havent figured out the intro yet..ENJOY!

D G
2010 in boston town
D G
the leaves are golden brown
D G
we take the kids to town
A D
to see the fair
D G
big wheel is turning round
D G
hear that homely sound
D G
we re walking thru the crowd
A D
in the evening air
A D
see our boy hold his sister near
A D
until they re in the clear
Bm G
you whisper in my ear
A D
that one s going to heaven

D G
chorus: you ve no idea do you
A D
what i ll do for you Bm G
to have so much to lose
A D
is the only feeling

D G
i ran around my time
D G
i stood in every line
D G
i couldnt stop my mind
A D
from dreaming of ya

D G
and when i laid eyes on you

D G
i knew that race was thru

D G
and when i spoke to you

A D
i told it so

A D
you said i think you re a fool

A D
and i said i know you do

Bm G
but i d run away with you

A D
if you ask me nicely

CHORUS

D G
2050 boston town

D G
the son is sitting down

D G
its the only feeling now
