

Dr John

MIKA

I can't quite make up my mind whether it should be C#m or C#... but I'll let everyone be the judge of that themselves. Have loads of fun playing and singing this awesome peace of work!

Love, love Mika!

(And me, for giving you the almost-100%-accurate-chords XD)

Xxx and hugs, Ruby

I look for joy in a strange place, from the back of a bar, from afar
I see the look on my momma's face, when her son's in the corner, undone
She says that my life is over: "Boy, you don't know what you got,
'till it's gone. Come, put your head upon my shoulder."
She gave me her hand, but I ignored her

Chorus:

Oh, doctor John, what am I doing, what am I doing wrong?
'cause I keep on trying, but something ain't going, something ain't going on Doctor John

I look for joy in a strange place, in the back of a bar, from afar
I see the look on my daddy's face, when his son's falling over, undone
"Father, my life is over, I didn't know what I had, now it's gone
Can I lay my head upon your shoulder? If I fall asleep, will it be over?"

Chorus:

Oh, doctor John, what am I doing, what am I doing wrong?
'cause I keep on trying, but something ain't going, something ain't going on

You say I'm a big heart breaker, but doctor I never hurt ya, isn't it obvious?

Chorus:
