Intro: C

Cut me up in two, or three or four dark clouds.
I won't bring you rain, I won't spend my time to prove you're good, or bad,
or tend to feel the ground.

That's not my fate,
That's not your land.

Rising up that kids can be destroying,
can be exhausting but a smile comes when they grow.
Restless thoughts and actions you're so proud of when you know.
Or if you don't, they disappear and they feel wrong, and they feel wrong,
and they feel wrong

Right, you look up right again.
You broke your right to be the same like them.

I want them real,
I want them live their life in Peace.
Frost! He seem to hesitate.
My thoughts are black, Your ones are reprimand.

I want you cool,
I want you live your life in Colors.
