[Verse]

Bbm            G#                    Ebm            Bbm
Alduin s wings, they did darken the sky.
Bbm            G#                    Ebm                    Bbm
His roar fury s fire, and his scales sharpened scythes.
Bbm                    G#                    Ebm                    Bbm
Men ran and they cowered, and they fought and they died.
C#                    Ebm                    Bbm                    G#
They burned and they bled as they issued their cries.
Bbm            G#                    Ebm            Bbm
We need saviors to free us from Alduin s rage.
Bbm            G#                    Ebm            Bbm
Heroes on the field of this new war to wage.
Bbm            G#                    Ebm                    Bbm
And if Alduin wins, man is gone from this world.
C#                    Ebm                    Bbm                    G#
Lost in the shadow of the black wings unfurled.

[Verse]

C#                    G#                    F#
But then came the Tongues on that terrible day.
C#                    G#                    F#                    Bbm
Steadfast as winter, they entered the fray.
C#                    G#                    F#                    Bbm
And all heard the music of Alduin s doom.
C#                    Ebm                    G#                    Eb
The sweet song of Skyrim, sky-shattering Thu um.
F#                    G#                    Bbm
And so the Tongues freed us from Alduin s rage.
F#                    G#                    Bbm                    C#
Gave the gift of the Voice, ushered in a new Age.
F#                    G#                    Bbm                    Eb
If Alduin is eternal, then eternity s done.
F#                    Bbm                    G#                    Bbm
For his story is over and the dragons are gone.
