[Intro]

F#m D C#m E x2

[Verse 1]

F#m D
In deepest darkness lies in wait
A A/C#
A captor seething, filled with hate
F#m D
I know not when his voice will sing

The lies that draw me from my King

I have not strength to turn and flee

But Christ the Son alive in me
F#m D
He fills me with His peace and rest
A E A
And trades my shame for righteousness

Though times I listen to the words

Of one deceiving, there is heard

A gentle call, a calming plea
A E A
Oh please, my child, come back to me
F#m D
And in that moment I find there

Neither reproach nor deep despair

But healing hands to lift my head

My Father's loving arms instead
