CAPO 1

A E

God you made the world all wrong, I m so ugly; he s so fine.

A E

I would love her my life long, but she never would be mine.

Asus4 D

Now he owns her heart and soul, without giving her a thing.

B E Eaug

And she thinks he ll make her whole, with the love she thinks he ll bring.

A D

She will lie down at his touch, and believe his lies with pride.

B E Eaug

It s his face she loves so much, she can t see what s deep inside.

A E

God you made the world all wrong, he s so rich; and I m so poor.

A E

He will make her life a song; he will give her nothing more.

Asus4 D

God you made the world all wrong, let her have her shining knight.

B E Eaug

Beauty to the rich belongs, not to us outside the light.

A D

I am just an ugly stain that the world just wants to hide.

B E Eaug

God you gave me so much pain, were you ever on my side?

CAPO 4 during the delay

A E

God you made the world all wrong, I have nothing; he has all.

A E

But I ll tell her all along he won t be there if she falls.

Asus4 D

He was born to silk and lace, to make love and to make war.

B E Eaug

I was born without a face; God, what did you make me for?

A D

Tell me what side god is on, those whose silver buys the host?

B E Eaug

Or those who pray to god alone, day and night, this Holy Ghost.

C#m

Can this Jesus we adore save his blessing only for.

B E Eaug

Those three kings of gold and myrrh, and leave the shepherds at the door?
