

Alex Bieser - All That I Need
Misc Unsigned Bands

This is my song, and not only that, but the first song I've ever written. I'm posting it on Ultimate Guitar mostly for personal use. It's a little cumbersome to play it from my notebook and turn the pages at the same time. You can try to play it, but I imagine it would be difficult not knowing what it sounds like or what the vocal melody is. The strum pattern is similar to Piano Man by Billy Joel. This song is my intellectual property, so please don't attempt to make a recording of it and claim it as your own.
