What could she do
What could she do
Well she could not look away
When she looked to her mother s eyes
There were no words to say

So much loss
So much pain
Was this whole world in vain
Like a candle burning in the dark
Or a rose on a cold gray day

She saw her mother
Talking with the children
Saying there ll be more good times
Rose of Sharon she looked beyond
With such a mysterious smile

Well the road was hard
Times were tough
Not beyond the point of caring
She was a flower blooming in the dark
And her name was Rose of Sharon

C G
She lost it all
Am
She never stopped caring
G C
And her name was Rose of Sharon
