Hey There Castiel Twist And Shout
Misc Unsigned Bands

 i do not own this song, i found it on youtube under user Grace Zheksd who is extremely talented. i just added the chords. i prefer to play on uke, but here is guitar. capo not necessary.

[Intro]
C Em C Em

[Verse]
```
     C
Hey there Castiel
             Em
Although I know that you canâ€™t hear me
          C
I just wanted to tell you how much
         Em
I wish that you were near me
          Am    G
All I know
F
   Is that I hear your voice wherever I go
             G
I love you so

C
     Hey there Castiel
                  Em
Well since the day that I got drafted
                    C
Nothingâ€™s been the same for us but Iâ€™ve
                        Em
Still got your photograph it
            Am   G
Keeps me sane
                          G
The only thing that helps me through the pain
                 G
All that remains

C                                 Am
Oh Iâ€™ll come back home to you x4
                      C
Come back home to you

C
     Hey there Castiel
          Em
Remember when we danced to Elvis
```

```
                    C
Back when things were simple but these days
        Em
Our life is living hell this
            Am   G
Isn’t how
                    G                                    Am
I wanted all this mess to turn out
                  G
It’s different now

C
    Hey there Castiel
            Em
I’ve simply lost the will to fight it
                C
I’m so sorry about everything
        Em
But please know all that I did
                    Am   G
Was for you

F                              G                                    Am
   I’m sinking and I can’t let you drown too
                          G
You’ll see that soon

C                                        Am
Oh I just can’t stay with you x4

        F
I’d almost forgotten it all
        G
But one day I got that phone call
        C                                        Am
And everything came back out of the blue
    F
Remember all those plans we made
      G
So long ago now it’s too late
    C                                            Am
To save you and there’s nothing I can do
        F
But I know that things can’t end like this
      G
Remember all those promises
        Em                                    Am
So Castiel I’m coming back to you
            G
Back home to you

[One strum per chord]
    C
```

```
          Hey there Castiel
               Em
Now that I know you’re someplace better
    C
I can’t tell you how I’m feeling
      Em
So I’ll put it in a letter
                        Am   G
Please know I

F                       G                              Am
   Will love and have loved you for all of time
F                                              Am
   And after all you never said goodbye
F               G                              Am
   You only said ‘see you then’ and that’s why
                 G
This love can’t die

[Return to normal strumming]
C                      Am
Oh I won’t stop loving you x4
                  C        Am
I can’t stop loving you
```