G                    Bm                    Em                    F                    C                    D                    F                    Em
Twenty Years ago, Blood and bone, was all I had, to, remember you by

Here I am today, with the missing puzzle pieces, still unfound, where are you now

Walking Lonely streets, trying to find myself, and so much of it, is locked away from me

A man without a face, without a past, will she want to know him, after all this time

Chorus:
G                    Bm                    Em                    F                    C                    D                    F
Em

I want to know who you are, what youre like, what your favorite color is

I want you to be, in my life, how could you just let me go, away, forever

Verse2

She carried me in the womb, but in diress, Pulled Away would you even want to have anything to do with the child, you couldn t afford

I know you wanted the best for me, even though it meant, seperation from the love you had

Can you you find it within you at all, to let this wandering soul, back in your life

Chorus x2

Forever oh

Forever oooh

I want you to know who I am, what I m all about

I want you to know who I am, what is important to me
