Dm Am G

When you go they ll wrap me in linen

Om C

Kiss my lips once before they turn pale

Dm Am (

On this morn you ride to the haunted mountain

Dm C

And no one will hear of this tale

I have carried a blade from a young age And I value the skills I have kept I have but one fear, to end in a cage So I go with a mind full of death.

G D A Bm

And oh, I would have followed you down to the end

G A

My captain my king.

G D A Bm

And oh, I would have followed you down to the paths of the dead

Dm Am G

But I ride to find my own meaning

When you go I ll shed these maiden s clothes And my lips move with prayer on my breath As a boy or a man I can face the blackness For we meet with the armies of death

And oh I would have followed you down to the end My captain my king

And oh I would have followed you down to the paths of the dead But I ride to find my own meaning.

Dm C F

Fire consumes the heart that teaches

Dm C F

The captain of evil to fall

Dm C F

Desire as pure as a man that reaches

Dm C G

The humble hero in us all

G D A Bm G

Oh I would have followed you down to the end

Α

My king

G D A Bm G

And oh I would have followed you down to the paths of the dead $Dm$

But I ride to find my own meaning.
