At a bar at midnight

C7

My eyes are half closed

F C

My head is restin on the wall

There s a cowboy to my right

He looks good tonight

G

He s dark, handsome and tall

(Chorus)

F

But the musics too loud

And I don t like the crowd

I wanna go home and lie down in my Select Comfort Sleep Number bed

G7

Oh my aching head

C C7

I m falling asleep and I m starting to snore

F G C

I m too old to party anymore

My man broke my heart

Couple weeks ago

I spend my time sitting at home

I m a little bit sad

But it ain t that bad

So I decided I ll just be alone

(Chorus)

But then my friend brought me here

She keeps buyin me beer

She wants me out on the town trying to find myself a new man

That s her plan

But this ain t the way I wanna even the score

I m too old to party anymore

She wants me to drink

She wants me to dance

She wants me to flirt with the men

This is her cure

But I ain t so sure

I don t think I ll ever do this again

(Chorus)

My jeans are too tight

Lord, I m a pitiful sight

I wanna go home and put on my comfy baggy ole sweats

I m such a mess

I m so tired, gonna fall to the floor

I m too old to party anymore

You may say I m a bore

But I m headed straight for the door

I m too old to party anymore

I m too old to party anymore
