D-Bm-Em-A (A: play A, lift and hammer 2nd string
D Bm
How you stole my gaze on the first day,
Em A
You were everywhere like a subway
D Bm Em A
At the summer s end when things start to fade and die
D Bm Em A D Bm Em A
A-hoooo, oh ooooooooo, a-hoooo, oh ooooooooo

On the second day we saw shooting stars on the arm of a tattooed boy
By the afternoon we were starry too, starry dizzy from the things we saw
D Bm Em A
ooooo- o-ooooo

Em A
Suddenly you re not mine
Em A
Suddenly we re into winter
D Bm Em A
Well did you always know I d never be right?
You ve taken your time to put on the brakelight
What if the days draw in and you haven t found your one?
Will you come back and see if I could be someone?

(single string plucked arpeggio) D-Bm-Em-A
D Bm Em A
We had sunny spells and occasional rain, you were overcast throughout
D Bm Em A
ooooo- o-ooooo
D Bm Em A
We had BAP BAP BAP a-DOO WAH! You wanted la de da de, la de da da da
D Bm Em A
ooooo- o-ooooo

Em D Em A
Suddenly there s bad times and I have to pull the bunting down
Em D A
Good thing there s no time to make a song and dance

Well did you always know I d never be right?
You ve taken your time to put on the brakelight
What if the days draw in and you still haven t found your one?
Will you come back and see if I could be someone?

oo-ooooo

oo-oooo-oooo-oooo
