

Oceanlab - Satellite
Misc Unsigned Bands

Verse:

Am                      Em                      Am      Em
My love is like footsteps in the snow, baby,
Am                      Em                      Am      Em
I follow you everywhere you go, baby.
         Am                      Em
The pain as light has come to wake you
         Am                      Em
But you will never realize
         Am                      Em                      Am      Em
That I inspire the dreams that guide you baby.

Chorus:

F                                      C      G
You re a half a world away
F                                      C                      G
But in my mind I whisper every single word you say.
F                                      C      G
And before you sleep at night
F                                      C                                      G
You pray to me, your lucky star, you re singing satellite.

(Repeat Verse Progression)

I follow the winds that bring the cold, baby,
I light a fire in your soul, baby.
The lightest touch of feathers falling
My love may be invisible
But I inspire the dreams that guide you, baby

(Repeat Chorus Progression)

You re a half a world away
But in my mind I whisper every single word you say.
And before you sleep at night
You pray to me, your lucky star, your singing satellite.
