Welcome to my humble pad
Help yourself to anything in the fridge he said as Teenage suburbia being home alone
Sets the tone for us supposedly fully grown

But I roam the apartment looking for more
Hoping for more, really sure
That there must be so much more
In store for us
cause this ain t even worth all the fuss

This can t be what its all about I doubt
This was how my life was meant to turn out
The speakers are about to burst into flames
As the guests are having trouble
Remembering each other s names

(Chorus 2x)

We put clothes on that have costed us a waddle
It s like a catwalk in here

And I m a model
I pretend to welcome drink his cognac
I sip it gently

I know it sounds whacked but
As time goes by I m getting more into character
I strut around like a prison guard in Attica
But still I can t shake the feeling of discontent
As I know that all of this is just pretend

I drift off for a while cause that song they re playing
Reminds me of when I was a child
And how carefree I was then
How everything broken
Was so easy to mend

And that s when it hit me
I shouldn t look so hard
For the things that make me happy
I got simple needs
I m easy to please
I ve written down a list
And it kinda reads

(Chorus 2x)

Ain t nothing like a cold beer in the sun
I hope we got enough for everyone
(I hope we got enough for everyone)
Ain t nothing like a cold beer in the sun
(Ain t nothing like a cold beer in the sun)
I hope we got enough for everyone
