

Simon Ostebo - My Love Should Have Shown
Misc Unsigned Bands

This sounds best with a Capo on 2nd fret, but you choose :)
Use a metronome at 70/72 and you're there.

C

Im lost in your eyes, trying to look cool

Am

now im tired of waiting, staring at you

F

well it seems like youve gone, out of my sight

G

I was going to tell you, I promised tonight

Maybe your to good, or maybe too pretty it feels like i've lost you, off course I'm to shitty
I focused to much on the things that you liked
Forgot to be nice, oh it must been a sight

Chorus:

Am

Trying to tell you, just what i felt

F

forgot to show feelings, it didnt really helped

G

now im just stuck with my head here alone

C

thinking of that time when my love should have shown

C Am F G

I'm just to lazy, I'm just to lack
I'm afraid to ask you, just watching your back
Finding excuses for running away
My love for you is crazy, I'll kiss you one day

I got to be strong, I believe it in me
Walking up closely, oh my god she is so pretty Touching here shoulder, and she is turning around
Looking at my face, we're not making a sound

Chorus:

Trying to tell you...

I said that i loved you, said that i care
Said I was sorry, it wasnt quite fair
I grabbed your chins, taking you closer
Kissing you gently while holding your shoulder

Chorus:

Trying yo show you, just what I felt Trying to show feelings, seems like it helped Im kissing you here all alone thinking of the time when my love should have shown
