Steph Macpherson - Summer Salute Misc Unsigned Bands

Hey, Kaya here :) not a very hard song. When I play it I like to add some variation in the chords though, sometimes adding some extra notes on the Am and on the F chords, especially in the instrumental bit, it makes it sound a little fancier I find when only playing it guitar/vocals. Also, on the first chorus after the instrumental part, I usually go to power chords and play the first beat on each chord and then mute all the strings so I get that clicky kind of sound, and then for the second chorus I go back to the normal strumming pattern. Anyways, I hope you enjoy!
