Misc Unsigned Bands

THE HYPOTHETICAL SONG by TED BOND. Album: Demo 2003
Strumming pattern is simple, just listen to the song

F Gm

Put forward in solitude

C F

Small words of petition

Dm Gm

It s something creating you

C F

And maybe that something will care

Dm Gm

What useless soliloquy

C F C

Without recognition

Dm Gm

If someone was listening

C F

You wouldn t have offered the prayer

A Dm

But you re waiting for someone else

C F

To validate your existance

A Dm

You re praying for a man to come

Bb F C

Inaugurate your happy and meaningful life

A Dm

Till then you ve just that single hope

C F C

To motivate your persistance

Dm C

In holding your own

Bb F

In living alone

A Dm

But what if he never comes

Gm C F

What if your fate is eternal seclusion

Dm Gm

Would it feel good to complain about being a woman

C F

In a mans world

Dm Gm

What if you never fell in love

C F

What if life suddenly wasn't over

Gm Bb

What if you woke up one morning instead

A Dm

In old women's clothing, grey hair on your head

Gm

Wet-nursed and spoon-fed

C F

Alone in your bed

Gm

These thoughts are your contract

C F

Your pact with anxiety

Dm Gm

Same that give you purpose

C F

Old satisfaction, fulfillment and joy

Dm Gm

Self-pity prohibits you

C F C

From finding security

Dm Gm C

You can't be a woman when you're still a girl

F

In want of a boy

A Dm

And it's a bitter brand of comedy

C F

That marks your pain and tension

A Dm

When the faith that finds you on your knee

Bb F C

Has not the strength to pull you to your knee

A Dm

And you're defining fantasy

C F C

Speaks only condescension

Dm C

Cause you're still alone

Bb F

Still holding your own

A Dm

But what if he never comes

Gm C F

What if your fate is eternal seclusion

Dm Gm

What if your life goes unshared and unwitnessed

C F

What if you grow up to be an old maid

Dm Gm

What if your waiting for life to begin

C F

When really you re waiting for nothing at all

Gm E

What if you wake up one morning instead

Am A

Alone in your bed

Dm

What if you find a man

G

But you re still alone

C

No longer a virgin

F

But you re still unknown

Bb

He s only met your needs

Gm

With needs of his own

Am

Is that what you ve been waiting for

A Dm

What if you find the one

G

Whose strength would see it through

C

Only to find

F

He s just as weak as you

Bb

One lonely child

Gm

Has now become two

Am A Asus4

Is that what you ve been praying for

Dm Gm

But what if somebody was trying to tell you

C F

You were the reason that he was a man

Dm

Yeah, but you wouldn't listen

Gm C F

You were too wrapped up in your own defeat

Dm

He suffers your rejection

Gm C F

It's amazing what the mind constitutes and discretizes

Gm Bb

And what if life is waiting in front of your nose

A

But you hadn't noticed

Dm

Cause your eyes are closed

Gm

You're debating opposed

C F

To the one who loves you most

Chords from the old Craig's Brother forum, circa 2003. First version by Fat Pete.
