[intro]

C F G

C F
You wake up one morning

G
And there on your face

C F
Are angry red spots

G
That you just can t erase

C F
Well, you scratch and you pick

G
Hoping they ll disappear

C F
But still they remain

G
Just to fill you with fear

C F
Then pustules of purple

G
Appear on your skin

C F
And then you must know

G
How much trouble you re in

C F
It s quite contagious

G
And spreads round quite fast

C F
So the friends you had

G Dm7
Are now part of the past

Am Em
So a pimple s annoying and acne s a pain

D Dm7
But if you catch this your whole life s down the drain

Am
Cause spattergroit

Em

{whoa-oh}

Am

Isn't much fun

Em

There's still more to come and there's still more to tell

D

Dm7

Because the disease is only half of the hell

Am

Cause spattergroit

Em

{whoa-oh}

Am

Isn't much fun

C F G

C F

To be rid of this curse

G

Is no easy deal

C F

The one cure there is

G

Will sure make you reel

C F

Where potions and spells

G

May work for the pox

C F

The spattergroit cold

G

Is quite hard to outfox

C F

I hope you like liver

G

And like being nude

C F

For the treatment of this

G

Is disgusting and crude

C F

The disease may be fatal

G

So please start to act

C F

Our only wish here

G Dm7

Is to keep you intact

Am

Em

Well, the cure may be funny and the name may appeal

D

Dm7

But you won't be laughing when standing in eels

Am

Cause spattergroit

Em

{whoa-oh}

Am

Isn't much fun

Em

As you laugh at it now I wish you the best

D

Dm7

So please heed this warning as you don't want a test

Am

Cause spattergroit

Em

{whoa-oh}

Am

Isn't much fun

Am

Cause spattergroit

Em

{whoa-oh}

Am

Isn't much fun...
