

Waxahatchee - Bathtub
Misc Unsigned Bands

D A Em G
take my word for it, i m not worth it
D A Em G
I ignored you all night and you don t deserve it
D A Em G
Morning, bathtub, my skin soft and hot
D A Em G
I was sure you were right but you re not

Em G
I contemplate my ruined fate
D A
Someone will hurt me so bad one day
Em G
And you ll resonate or I ll apologize
D A
Or maybe I ll make the same mistake twice

D A Em G
I hide from phone calls under the warm water
D A Em G
Malice desists, no it woefully recurs
D A Em G
And it plays like daytime tv shows, I confuse you

D A Em G
And I tell you not to love me but I still kiss you when I want to

Em G
And I lament, you re innocent
D A
But somehow the object of my discontent
Em G
And its fucked up, I let you in
D A
Even though I ve seen what can happen

D A Em G
You make a tape, receive it in the mail
D A Em G
And I force myself busy, the diversion will prevail

D A Em G
And I will swallow all my guilt with little pills and forge my chin up
D A Em G
And I will only think about it in the morning, in the bathtub
