This is a really simple and fun song. These are the two basic parts. For the outro just play the C#m-B-A bit a couple extra times. I m working on the lead part from the Maps & Companions version and if I finish it then I ll post that up, too.

Intro/Verses:

E C#m B A

E C#m B

Chorus:

E A C#m B A

The color of your shirt reminds me of my bed
I don t mean that in a sexual way
And when I m out with you I don t care what is said
I know it s all jealousy
I drive past my house cause it s not late enough
I feel like just going out
Twenty minutes later I m feeling kinda tired
You know what I m talking about

I don t like to party
I don t like to say what s on my mind
I ve just got a problem
It s nothing that won t go away in time

The color of the trees when the summer times over makes me smile even when I m alone
I laugh to myself and I hold conversations about things you ll never know
I drive past your house and I don t mean to look, it makes me feel like a creep
But I ve got this feeling I was just thinking, thinking of you and me

You barely try but you re rad, a lot of times it s you that s on my mind
I ve just got a problem, I m thinking it will go away in time
Thinking it will go away in time
Thinking it will go away in time
