

Desperate

Monday Morning

E G D A
you see the shadows standing by your door E G B A
and as it inches open you say I can't take it anymore E G D A
it's all too often they take it out of you E G
why can't the love the way you love B A
why can't your dreams come true

D G B A
and I see the pain running from your eyes
D G B A D G B A
it tells me that you're desperate to find a love that can melt your cold heart inside
G D
heal your hurt and ease your mind

E G D A
look in the mirror at your battered face again
E G B A
it brings a tear to your eyes as you turn and see E G D A
headlights in the driveway he's coming home again
E G B A
why can't he love the way you love so hard to understand

D G B A
and I see the pain running from your eyes
D G B A D G B A
it tells me that you're desperate to find a love that can melt your cold heart
inside
G D D D#
heal your hurt and ease your mind

B G C A
you've traveled far from the place you once called home now this time you feel so alone this love will find you, the one you're searching for and if you can love with this love you'd be so much more, so much more
